

The Early Vancouver Transcription Project is a project of the Global Civic Policy Society and its President, Sam Sullivan, former Vancouver Mayor. We hope this will stimulate a greater interest in the beginnings of the City of Vancouver and will benefit those who are researching to gain a better understanding of our history. Although we have done our best to ensure accuracy, the original documents are faded and in handwriting that is difficult to read.

The transcription of this Vancouver City Council Meeting was made by Margaret Sutherland and Joy Marie Vasquez and was funded through the generosity of Sam Sullivan.

Reports.

No.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met on Thursday 29th March 1888 and beg to report that the question of introducing a fire alarm system into the City has received consideration from your Committee.

We consider the Game well System the most perfect and would recommend the purchase of Six boxes and two gongs at a cost of &125.00 each.

We would also deem it advisable to purchase another engine so that we may be fully protected from fires during the coming Summer.

An account has been submitted from E. S. Scoullar & Co. for fixing up a bath room in the fire hall amounting to $41.97 which we recommend for payment; but in future all work in connection with the Fire Department before being undertaken must be submitted for the approval of this Board, otherwise payment will be refused.

Sgd, J. Humphries, Chairman

Moved by Alderman Lefevre seconded by Alderman Clark. That the report of the

By-Law as passed in Committee.

By-Law read a third time on motion of Alderman Clark seconded by Alderman Lefevre and ordered engrossed and printed.

The Committee appointed by the Council to wait on Mr. Abbott regarding the bridge across False Creek laid before him the following statement:

A great many industries are and will yet be established at False Creek and the impediment of the stationery bridge hampers the present industries and prevents others from establishing there.

The shore of False Creek on both sides has a frontage of nearly 2 miles and closed bridges place at the entrance interferes seriously with the Settlement of the Waterfront.

It is in the best interest both of the City and Railway that a large metropolis should be built and anything that prevents settlement would be prejudicial to both.

As the Company has a large interest in the City it is to their advantage that we should develop and progress and we consider that if the subject was placed before them in an amicable manner they would see that it would be to their interest to make a Swing Bridge.

As Mayor of the City, and President of the Board of Trade I speak in behalf of both and wish to know how for the company is willing to meet us in a friendly way to remove what we consider an obstacle to our progress.

Mr. Abbott in reply said that the only official intimation that he had had on the subject was to the effect that it was not the intention of the Company to put a draw in the bridge.

Still this was at a time when the Company had intended to erect their large workshops, round houses etc. on the South side of False Creek and when a draw in the bridge meant serious interruption to their traffic. Now, however the erection of the works on this side of the creek made a difference. Besides prior to the last few days, no official representation or protects had been made to the Company on the Subject.

When a deputation from two such representative bodies as the City Council and the Board of Trade urged the matter of a draw bridge he was sure that their request would meet with the utmost attention from the Company's officials at Montreal. He would forward their representations at once and ask the Company to reconsider the question in view of the altered circumstances. Filed
