

The Early Vancouver Transcription Project is a project of the Global Civic Policy Society and its President, Sam Sullivan, former Vancouver Mayor. We hope this will stimulate a greater interest in the beginnings of the City of Vancouver and will benefit those who are researching to gain a better understanding of our history. Although we have done our best to ensure accuracy, the original documents are faded and in handwriting that is difficult to read. The transcription of this Vancouver City Council Meeting was made by Margaret Sutherland and Joy Marie Vasquez.

March 20th 1890. Present Aldermen Horne, Browning, Sentell and Costello.

We beg to recommend:

1. That the Y. M. C. A. be allowed to extend their basement ten feet into Hastings Street below the level of the sidewalk subject however to the superintendence and approval of the City Engineer.
2. That Westminster Avenue Bridge across False Creek be covered with 3 inch plank laid diagonally according to a plan prepared by the City Engineer and that tenders for the same be called for at once.
3. That in future all lenders for City Contracts must bear the actual signature of the parties proposed as sureties in the tender together with the number and district of their lots.

5. Re the petition of Jos Dixon asking the Council to reduce the hours of labor to Corporation Laborers to nine hours a day.

In consideration of the work of the City being done almost entirely by contract this Committee does not consider it advisable to express any opinion regarding the hours of labor, it being a question to be dealt with by the contractors.
